Rain, Lake breach wreak havoc in city

SRIRAMPURA SUBMERGED

[Pic. by M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav]

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (OSR)- When Mysuru went to sleep last night, it had received anywhere between 40 to 45 mm rain within a span of around eight hours. When it woke up this morning, there was a trail of destruction. The entire Srirampura, bordering the Manandavadi Road was submerged and over 134 houses were inundated. Residents had to be rescued using boats, a sight, which has never been witnessed in the history of the city.

Probably for the first time in the history of this heritage city, almost all the lakes surrounding it breached, inundating the residential areas. The overnight rain flooded several parts of the city, submerging parking lots, basements and entire road stretches, and snapped power in vast swathes.

MORE PICTURES ON PAGES 6 & 9

While water logging complaints were being attended to till late at night, the power situation was back to normal in most parts of the city this morning.

To start with, the Hootagalli Lake breached late last night and water flowed into Hinkal Lake, Mariyappanakere, filling them to the brim after 20 years. From there, water flowed to Lingambudhi Lake and then to Dalvoy Lake through Raja Kaluves, ultimately to join Hennhole on Nanjangud Road and from there to Kapila river. As the water travelled via Raja Kaluves, the nearby areas were flooded.

Srirampura the epicentre

Srirampura was the epicentre of the floods where over 134 houses were submerged. While the first floors of the house were inundated, residents had to take shelter on the second and third floors. A huge drain near Ashwini Choultry on H.D. Kote Road overflowed, forcing the entry of muddy water inside the houses.

Electronic equipment including TVs and fridges and furniture inside most of the houses were rendered worthless. Many residents complained that they saw snakes and scorpions taking shelter in their beds and kitchens.

Sangappa, a retired Government officer was struggling to empty the water inside his house. "I woke up at 3 am as water covered the pillars that supported my bed. I immediately saved my grandchild who was sleeping inside a cradle," he told Star of Mysore.

As the news of flooding spread, personnel from the Fire Service Department rushed to the spot with three boats (air boats) to rescue the residents. By noon, over 50 residents were rescued and priority was given to senior citizens and women.

One old woman who was sitting on the terrace of her house refused to come in the boat. Finally she relented after her neighbours convinced her to climb the boat.

More rains predicted till Oct. 2

Mysuru records 45 mm rains yesterday

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (KS)- Mysuru city recorded 40-45 mm rains from last evening till this morning, according to Narendra Babu, Research Associate at Organic Farming Research Station at Naganahalli. Speaking to Star of Mysore, he said that 36 mm rains lashed Naganahalli and surrounding places while Mysuru city recorded 45 mm rains.

He said that 36-60 mm rains are predicted till Oct. 2 in Mysuru and surrounding areas and hopefully, this will not disrupt the Dasara Procession.

One generation to the next...

Whether we relish it or not, the generation preceding ours leaves behind a legacy, which in turn the subsequent generation bequeaths. Cash and immovable property are welcome, but not a load of debt to be cleared in tight time-frame and litigation. Information, knowledge and wisdom, in that order, as they relate to daily life and emerging out of years of experiencing the tough and tumble in life of earlier generations are hardly remembered with a sense of gratitude. Customs, beliefs, traditions and even other ingredients of culture which have run through respective families for centuries as a distinct feature of the land's people seems to have got fractured in our times, taking a heavy toll of the wisdom part of generation to generation legacy. The mutual conduct among the human kind has witnessed both glory and infamy as the pages of history reveal if one chooses to study the chronicles portraying times of war and peace all over the globe.

A dicey legacy marking the early years of 20th century is unarguably the technology to generate nuclear power, which, as it has happened, led to its use in weaponry with destructive punch on a scale never witnessed in all human history. While the present generation has that virtual Brahmaastra in its arsenal, one wishes that no future generation bequeaths it in any form.

While the most feared act by the top brass in one or the other country (among the seven with capability) of pulling the trigger as it were is virtually hanging like the sword of Damocles over seven billion plus global headcount, people at large have before them another agenda which is not of less importance and impact than staving off nuclear holocaust. That agenda revolves round consumption and conservation of the major resources supporting life namely air, water, soil, greenery, terrestrial as well as marine fauna in their order of importance and threat of losing. More than adequate information and knowledge are within our reach concerning the factors behind over-exploitation of the aforementioned resources by populations all over the planet.

In short, we are talking of the rare wealth that one generation bequeaths from an earlier generation, namely, environment. Every generation has its unalienable right to unsullied environment while equally so, every generation has a duty to zealously guard the environment, pristine in all respects.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

ANYONE HERE BEEN RAPED AND LIKES SEX ?: The notion that young Indians leading liberated lives are asking for trouble needs revisiting. Why did a young woman go to watch a late-night movie with her boyfriend, wearing tight jeans and T-shirt? Does it not suggest a promiscuous relationship? Why did she not keep her parents and college informed, particularly when her daddy isn't rich enough to give her the safety of a chauffeur-driven car? And why were she and her boyfriend hanging around a lonely Delhi road at night, and why did they cadge a ride in an empty bus on an irregular run with six lumpen, hormone-laden young men in it? And when they did fall for that temptation, why didn't you, following the principle Asaram Bapu enunciated later, not call them your brothers and offer to tie rakhis on their hands? And since you had a boyfriend, maybe you too were used (or, as is preferred by our criminal lawyers, habituated) to sex. — Shekhar Gupta in Business Standard

China's only "spider woman"

Guizhou Province: Luo Dengping has become famous as the only woman in a group of "spider men" who climb vertical cliffs of up to 100 meters high, without ropes or safety equipment of any kind, for the entertainment of tourists in China's Guizhou Province. Men of the Miao people, in Southwest China, originally developed this skill as part of a burial custom. This practice fell into obscurity, but the Miao spider men continued climbing the perfectly vertical cliffs of Ziyun, in order to collect rare medicinal plants said to cure asthma and rheumatism. Today, only a few members of the Miao people still practice this ancient tradition, and one of them is a woman. As the only daughter of a skilled spider man, she carry on the family's tradition, Luo began climbing the cliffs near the village of Getuhe when she was just 15-years-old. In the beginning, she felt scared, as time went by, she perfected her skills and, eventually, making her way up the giant rocks using nothing but her hands and feet became routine.

Amazing action figures in flip flops

Manila: Elmer Padilla, a young construction worker from Manila, Philippines, recently shot to internet fame after photos of his hand-made action figures went viral on multiple social networks. While being able to make your own action figures is an impressive talent in itself, what really caught people's attention was the medium used by the Filipino amateur artist — old flip-flops. Photos posted social media shows art show Elmer Padilla cutting colourful flip-flops on a sidewalk using knives and scissors, and assembling them into intricate toys like Transformers, Predator and Marvel superheroes.

A father to 2 daughters, Elmer Padilla works as a construction worker in the village of Imus, but also supplements his income by making and selling flip flop action figures. Impressed by his talent, his friend Adrian Soriano Bernabe shared photos of Elmer's work on the GUHIT Pinas Facebook group, where he his art become viral and his works got many praise.

Bannimantap NURM Housing Complex under threat of collapse

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (YDS&BCT)- The dilapidated Bannimantap Housing Complex (on Jodi Thenginamara Road) built under NURM scheme is facing a threat of collapse following incessant rains.

The multi-storey housing complex was constructed to provide housing for the poor and its present state reflects the apathy of the Government and the callousness of contractors who built the complex in a sub-standard manner.

The complex, built around four years back, lies in a low-lying area and only economically weaker sections live there. As heavy rains lashed the city yesterday, one block in the housing complex that is about to collapse has been vacated and 12 families have been rehabilitated at Aleemnagar.

When rains lashed the area yesterday, water gushed inside this low-lying area. The force of the water was such that the compound wall built around the housing complex collapsed and water entered into the basement of the complex. Added to the woes of the residents, power lines snapped and the area plunged into darkness.

Bannimantap NURM Housing Complex that is under the threat of collapse following heavy rains that lashed city yesterday.

"We don't have anywhere to go and all of us are living here in the atmosphere of fear. Not a single Slum Clearance Board official visited us since yesterday though a couple of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) officials came and assured us of immediate help," alleged a resident of the housing complex. As water filled the basement, the residents realised that their houses were under threat and informed their relatives in Aleemnagar. Several families moved out of the complex and were rehabilitated by their relatives and friends.

Due to water gushing inside the basement, certain parts of the building foundation gave away and water entered inside.

Realising the gravity of the situation, Ward 44 SDPI President Sameer Hussain and other leaders including Sameer and Imran alerted the MCC authorities and officials from Slum Clearance Board. Constituency MLA and Primary and Secondary Education Minister Tanveer Sait was informed and based on his directive, a team of Slum Clearance Board officials visited the place.

Board's Executive Engineer Kapanigowda claimed that there was no damage to the houses. This enraged the residents who demanded in writing from him that the buildings were safe.

Taken aback by the demand of the residents, Kapanigowda agreed that he would send a team of experts to inspect the building and certify that if it is worthy of living.

Rain relief work BJP, Congress leaders in verbal spat

Somashekar

H.V. Rajeev

Mysuru, Sept. 27- With last night's heavy rains having brought untold misery to thousands of people living in low-lying areas of the city, especially in Kanakagiri, Congress and BJP leaders sparred over the relief work this morning.

Even as the people of Kanakagiri were facing a lot of hardship because of last night's heavy rains, K.R. Constituency MLA M.K. Somashekar and BJP leader H.V. Rajeev entered into heated arguments over coming to rescue of the rain-affected people.

With Kanakagiri area virtually turning into a lake, MLA Somashekar visited the spot early this morning to hear the grievances of people and he was reportedly upset over the presence of BJP leader H.V. Rajeev at the spot.

Somashekar asked Rajeev what the BJP had done in the past few years when it was in power. He also questioned Rajeev whether he was now here to do politics. Angered by the MLA's remark, Rajeev hit back saying, "First tell me what you have done to the area. Now do the necessary works."

Even as the two questioned each other, a verbal spat broke out between the two leaders with both of them using abusive languages against each other, it is learnt.

VOICE OF THE READER

Stop begging menace near traffic junctions

Sir,

I would like to bring to the notice of the authorities concerned about the nuisance faced by vehicle-users like me and many others at the traffic signal junction of Outer Ring Road and Hunsur Road. The motorists are constantly bothered by a group of beggars, donation collectors and vendors when we stop for the red signal.

These people move in between the vehicles pestering the vehicle drivers to donate alms, or buy their goods (ranging from flowers to mobile or car accessories) and in doing so they interrupt the free flow of traffic, especially when the signal changes to green, which has become congested due to the ongoing flyover work.

What is more disturbing is children between the ages of 10 and 16 are collecting donations for unknown organisations and purpose, when they are supposed to be in school. When begging itself is not encouraged, ladies are begging along with infants who seem to be drugged as they are always sleeping. Men selling various items appear to be well-built and are mostly between the ages of 25 and 45 years.

All these raise a serious question as to whether they are a syndicate of people planning for some bigger criminal prospective. This also being the Dasara time when city is decked like the bride such scenes I believe deface the city.

I request the authorities concerned to take proper action and curb this menace.

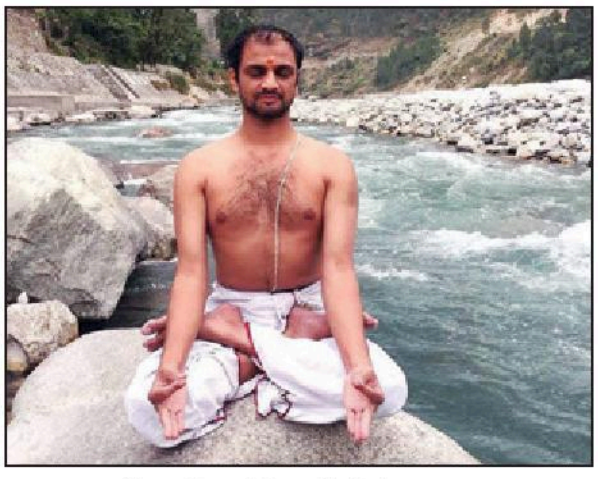
Yoga technique invented in Mysuru relieves Hillary Clinton's stress

Former US First Lady Hillary Clinton



Yoga Guru Sharath Jois

Mysuru, Sept. 27- A Yoga technique invented and propagated by a Mysuru-based Yoga Guru has impressed former US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, the wife of former US President Bill Clinton. The technique is called Alternate Nostril Breathing or Nadi Shodhana Pranayama and has been invented by R. Sharath Jois, a teacher, practitioner and lineage holder of Ashtanga Yoga, in the tradition of K. Pattabhi Jois, his grandfather.

Sharath is the Director of Shri K. Pattabhi Jois Ashtanga Yoga Institute, Gokulam. He is an author, the subject of several documentaries and is known for his expertise in Ashtanga Yoga.

Hillary Clinton mentions about Nadi Shodhana Pranayama in a CNN TV show Anderson Cooper 360° and asks the show host Anderson Cooper, "Have you tried that? I would highly recommend it."

"Never heard of it?" Cooper also wanted to know what it was. So Clinton demonstrated, "You breathe through one (nostril), and you hold it, and you exhale through the other, and you keep going," she explained.

"I can only say, based on my personal experience, that if you're sitting cross-legged on the yoga mat and you're doing it and you're really trying to inhale and hold it and then have a long exhale, it is very relaxing," she explained.

Clinton describes the practice on page-27 of her newly-released memoir, "What Happened," as a key way to recover from the stress of losing a lifelong dream of becoming President.

In a report, CNN's Sandee LaMotte says that Alternate Nostril Breathing or Nadi Shodhana Pranayama, has a long and storied history in both Yoga and Ayurvedic Indian medicine.

In Sanskrit, "Nadi" means channel or flow. "Shodhana" means clarifying or purifying, and "Pranayama" means to take control of the breath. Combined, you have a deep breathing technique that is believed to purify and de-stress the body, the report says. According to the report, proponents say that by infusing the body with oxygen, the practice releases toxins, calms the nervous system, rebalances hormones, enhances mental clarity and concentration, and brings balance to both hemispheres of the brain.

Expressing happiness over Hillary's endorsement of a yoga technique invented by him, Sharath Jois told Star of Mysore that he had invented the Nadi Shodhana Pranayama eight years back after many years of Yoga studies and research in Pranayama.

"It was invented with an intention of helping everyone with simple breathing techniques for stress relief and healthy life. It is a great and proven stress-buster and cures respiratory problems. While regular Pranayama with Asanas is complicated, this Nadi Shodhana Pranayama is a simple technique," he said.

Anybody can practice Nadi Shodhana Pranayama and practicing it for just a few minutes every day helps keep the mind calm, happy and peaceful. It also helps in releasing accumulated tension and fatigue, Sharath added.

How to do Nadi Shodhana Pranayama?

Sit in Padmasana or with crossed legs. With the right hand, fold the first and second finger in, keep the final two fingers straight. The thumb will be placed on the right nostril, the final two fingers on the left. Gently close off the right nostril and take five complete breaths, inhaling and exhaling through the left nostril. Then, gently close off the left nostril and take five complete breaths, inhaling and exhaling through the right nostril. Repeat this five times. The breath should be long and calm.

Nagamma's herbal medicine is a super hit this Dasara too

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (MTY&BCT)- If the tribal delicacies including Bamboo Biriyani and crab curry are making news at the Dasara Aahara Mela at Bharat Scouts and Guides Grounds, one woman is silently drawing crowds where she sells herbal medicines and medicines to cure skin diseases.

Nagamma, a nature therapist or Naati Vaidya, has come all the way from Kodagu to provide medicines to visitors. And the medicines given by her are in great demand. She made her appearance during last Dasara and Star of Mysore had featured her in these columns. Taking into account the demand for her medicines and the recognition she received last year, Nagamma decided to come this year also.

Hailing from Doddabettageri Village in Dubare Forest of Kodagu district, Nagamma has so far treated hundreds of people at the Aahara Mela and at the same time, advises young men and women on healthy living.

Nagamma's treatment is based on herbs, leaves and tubers obtained from the forest and the knowledge that has been passed on to her by her ancestors.

She treats common ailments like fever, common cold, tooth ache, joint pains, ear pain, headache, warts, burning sensation in the stomach and diarrhoea.

Sixty-nine-year-old Nagamma has her own fan base in Mysuru. Whoever has taken medicines from her last year have come back to her and this year, they have enough stocks of medicines for them to last for months together.

A recipient of 2014 State Janapada Award, Nagamma is an expert folk singer too. She has an innate and immense knowledge about herbal medicines that have been handed over to her by her ancestors.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Nagamma said that she has learnt the art of finding medicinal herbs, leaves, grass and wooden barks from her grandfather. "I am the fourth generation to provide native medicine in my family and even when I was a child, I used to observe my father and grandfather preparing medicines from forest produce," she said.

"My grandfather Doddajja was a Patel and used to supply such medicines for the whole village. After my grandfather, my grandmother continued the tradition that was taken over by my father Masanaiah and mother Siddamma. Now I am passing on the tradition to my daughter and daughter-in-law," she added.

Talking about her medicines, Nagamma said that the juice extracted from Gandhari leaves cure ear pains and wax discharges in just five minutes. If a person is totally affected by allergies or acne, a juice extracted from Gali leaves mixed with garlic can be applied on the infection.

"In my tribal hamlet, I treat hundreds of patients without even charging a single rupee. However, it is not that easy to get forest plants these days. Even if you get hold of medicinal plants, it is difficult to prepare them," she opined.

Open Street Festival on World Tourism Day

Carnival atmosphere pervades D. Devaraja Urs Road

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (NNN)- Today is World Tourism Day and the theme is 'Sustainable Tourism — a Tool for Development.' But, what a day it has turned out to be for the Heritage City. Even as all preparations for holding 'Open Street Festival,' organised by the District Administration and the Tourism Department on D. Devaraja Urs Road to coincide with the World Tourism Day, the skies open up and pounds the city roads relentlessly the whole night till early in the morning. Thus, two records are set on the same day — one by Varuna, the rain God and the other by the District Administration for holding the Open Street Festival in the busiest street in the Central Business District for the first time in the history of Dasara celebrations.

The festival, which was to begin early in the morning at 7 stuttered to a slow start as no one can fight nature's fury. The concept of an Open Street Festival is very new to our city and hence the Tourism Department in its wisdom decided to handover the organisation to a private enterprise — Phase-1 Events and Entertainment Company.

Senior Manager Vishnu of the event management company, speaking to Star of Mysore, said, "This is the first time such an Open Street Festival is being held in Mysuru. We have experience of holding this kind of festival in Bengaluru on MG Road. However, this stretch of Devaraja Urs Road is a larger stretch than the one on MG Road and we are delighted to be here. There are 70 canvas tent shops in all and we only hope that rain does not play spoil sport further."

Even as this writer reached the place at 9.30 am, the owner of a Crockery Shop Mohammed Jani expressed his surprise at the activity and said he was not aware of the festival on the road, as none in the District Administration had bothered to inform him. "They could have involved us too and it would have been opportunity for us to showcase our products and we could offer 20 percent discount," he said.

Tourism Department Deputy Director H.P. Janardhan who had arrived early told Star of Mysore that the rain had played havoc with their plans. "The whole street would have come alive from morning 7 itself. However, we have not given up hope and as the day progresses we are sure that people will flock the festival," he said and added, "There is no Devaraja Urs Road Shopkeepers Association and hence, we could not inform everyone individually."

And, sure enough as the day progressed, thousands of people from children to senior citizens started pouring in, parking their vehicles on all side roads and wherever the Police had arranged for parking.

Carnival Atmosphere

By one in the afternoon, the Open Street Festival had a Carnival-like atmosphere comparable to the best ones in the world as youth were seen dancing, and the street reverberated with Dollu Kunitha and Kamsale.

A huge stage of 30ft X 40ft was set up for the performers to showcase their talents. A young group Emoticon known for miming performed in the afternoon to the delight of the audience. "Miming is all about using sign language and the USP is no language. We are all from different backgrounds," said one of the mime artiste. At 6.30 pm, Puppet show by Anupama Hosakere.

There is a stall that has handwriting specialist. She not only reads handwriting and predicts a person's future but she is also holding a free Graphology workshop. "People have stopped writing and hence this handwriting analysis becomes very important to know about one's personal life," said the Graphology and Handwriting specialist Monika Chandan from Bengaluru.

One of the main attractions is the BBQ Bike, which is a meals on wheels. This is a new experience for the people of Mysuru to taste barbecue stuff like chicken.

JSS Hospital has set up two booths and they are offering free sugar and BP test. People were seen flocking to the booths even before the carnival began.

Mysore Travel Mart past President C.A. Jayakumar, while welcoming the initiative of the State Government, the District Administration and the Tourism Department said, "We have been holding World Tourism Day since the past 15 years on Sept.27. We wanted to join hands with the government. But we have been ignored and we came to know about it just two days ago. The shopkeepers have also not been taken into confidence as they are also stakeholders."

According to Jayakumar, the disruption of the busiest street in Mysure was uncalled for and instead the same festival could have been organised in an open venue as part of Tourism Day.

Fire Dept. short of critical equipment

MCC Commissioner inspects

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (MTY&BCT)- The Fire Services personnel who are expected to rescue people at a time of natural disasters is horribly short of rescue equipment.

There are four fire stations in the city that have 16 vehicles. In addition, 12 vehicles have been summoned from other districts as Mysuru is celebrating Dasara.

"We have 40 personnel each at Bannimantap, Saraswathipuram, Hebbal and RBI fire stations. We have only two air boats and we borrowed another boat from a private party. We have so far rescued 60 people from Srirampura and our people have gone on rescue mission to Hootagalli, Gonikere near Silent Shores Hotel, Srirampura, Kuvempunagar, and Hanumanthanagar and near Lido Theatre," said District Fire Officer Gururaj.

Apart from the existing equipment, the department needs four boats, high-pressure pumps to drain out water, sucking and jetting machines and expert divers, he added.

Yaduveer performs Saraswathi Puja

Mysuru, Sept. 27 (MTY&VNS)- As part of the 407th edition of Dasara, Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, the titular head of Mysore Royal Family today performed special pujas to Saraswathi, the Goddess of Knowledge inside the Mysore Palace between 9.15 am and 9.45 am.

Yaduveer offered puja to books, Veena, musical scriptures, copies of epics like Ramayana, Mahabharata etc. Amidst chanting of vedic hymns by the Palace priests. The Saswathipuja will be followed by Kalarathri Puja at the Palace tonight.

Rain havoc: Srirampura Submerged

Amrita Vidyalayam in Bogadi declared holiday today as the institution campus was inundated.

An aerial view of Kanakagiri flooded owing to last night's heavy downpour.

As a precautionary measure, a Gas Agency employee is seen shifting a cylinder out of a water-logged house in Anandanagar near Nivedithanagar.

Other major area to be affected was Bogadi where a part of Ring Road was completely submerged and motorists had a tough time in wading through the water. There was four to five feet of water on the road.

Amrita Educational institution in Bogadi had to bear the brunt as water entered the compound and the basement. The basement was fully water-logged and the MCC Zone 4 authorities initiated the cleaning operation.

Parents, teachers and students who came to the institution this morning were forced to stand outside. Later, a holiday was declared to the institution.

Hotel basement flooded: The basement of "Sai Upahar" on the Bogadi Ring Road was submerged, destroying the hotel grocery stock. "Many rice bags, grocery stocks, oil and vegetables have been destroyed," said M. Girish, proprietor of the hotel.

The Thippayanakere that was recently rejuvenated by the District Administration and certain companies overflowed due to large inflow of water. Trees were uprooted on the Jodi Thenginamara Road, Kalidasa Road and Ramanuja Road.

Karnataka Exhibition Ground inundated: The Karnataka Exhibition Ground that is flocked by Dasara tourists and children for amusement has been inundated with the amusement park bearing the brunt.

The retainer wall of the Grounds from the side of M.G. Road collapsed and shops have been flooded, destroying the goods brought by vendors from various parts of the country.

Gallons of rainwater gushed from the Chamundi Hill to inundate certain low lying areas at J.C. Nagar. The Devikere atop the Chamundi Hill is full to the brim and water is overflowing from the top the hill.

St Mary's Street: The downpour left a trail of destruction on St. Mary's Road at Yelethota Circle. The overflowing drain has destroyed three shops and one of the shops where photocopying machines were kept was destroyed. The other structures next to the drain too are standing precariously.

Dasara Air Show to thrill spectators on Sept. 29

Mysuru, Sept. 27- Mysureans and also tourists will get a chance to enjoy colourful metal birds fly in the skies in city on Sept. 29. The Defence Ministry has given a go ahead for Air Show. CM Siddharamaiah has tweeted on the Air Show.

The show is expected to thrill the spectators and introduce them to the experience of radio-controlled flying, which will be near to real aircraft manoeuvres.

The Air Show will be inaugurated on Sept. 29 at 11 am at Bannimantap Grounds and both the Bengaluru Air Force base and the Mysore Airport at Mandakalli will be used for the Air Show.

The District Administration has received a communication in this regard from the Indian Air Force authorities.

Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep said, “We received communication from Air Force authorities to conduct Air Show but we are yet to finalise the dates. They want it to be on Sept. 30 but we prefer Sept. 29. On Sept. 30, it is not easy to have these events as there will be the Dasara procession which includes carrying of golden howdah. Hence, we have requested the Air Force authorities to conduct the Air Show on Sept. 29. On September 27 (today), the Air Force team from Bengaluru will be coming to Mysuru to inspect Bannimantap Grounds.”

Nalli Saaru, Mudde next popular delicacy after Bamboo Biriyani

A person is seen marinating the crab with masalas at Food Mela in Scouts & Guides Ground. Inset Gopal Pujar.

De-clawing the crab.

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

Bamboo Biriyani at the Dasara Food Mela has been the most popular dish. But, another tribal cuisine has been quietly gaining popularity that has forced the food connoisseurs to throng both Bharat Scouts and Guides and MUDA grounds next to Lalitha Mahal Palace, the venues of food mela, to taste the specially-prepared Crab Curry and Ragi Balls or Nalli Saaru or Ragi Mudde.

The freshly prepared delicacy has been a super hit among the seafood lovers. Every day around 10 kg crab is cooked and not a single piece remains unsold. "We have been preparing the crab curry to serve with ragi mudde or rice. The dish has great demand and we are trying our best to serve the people," said Gopal Pujar, the tribal leader, who has setup the Bamboo Biriyani and Nalli Saaru stall.

Nalli Saaru is prepared by the same group of tribal youths who prepare the Bamboo Biriyani. But, the preparation of Nalli Saaru in particular has been handed over to one Madappa, who is an expert in de-clawing the crab. Every day the freshly caught live crabs are brought to Mysuru from Kodagu. Later, it is cooked with a mixture of few masalas to prepare the yummy curry.

Herbal kheer.

While demand for dish has been increasing day by day, the organisers are not being able to fulfil the same as the crabs are not available in large quantity owing to heavy rains in Kodagu region. Each crab weighs around 1/4 kg. These crabs which are found in rocky waters must be caught with utmost care. Normally, the method is to catch them from behind as the crabs have sharp claws or pinchers that can cut the fingers.

Crabs are considered a healthy source of diet. They are low in calories with around 85-90 per 100g. They contain unsaturated fat, which is considered heart-healthy. It is also a natural source of Omega-3 fatty acids, which can help improve memory, decrease the chances of having a heart attack, decrease risk of cancer and possibly help to improve depression and anxiety levels.

It is also a good source of Vitamins A, C and the B including B12 and minerals like Zinc and Copper. It is a source of Selenium, which may be a means to prevent cancer. Crab also has some Chromium, which is considered a useful mineral if you have insulin resistance as it may improve blood sugar metabolism.

Another delicacy, which is available at the tribal food counter is the kheer prepared using herbal leaves. It tastes similar to that of any other kheer but has as lot of medicinal values. Though it tastes similar to the one prepared using rice, coconut and jaggery, the kheer is considered to be good as it releases heat in the body. After having tasted the tribal food, one should tickle their taste buds with pepper chicken curry and hot idlis being served at the stall setup by Tegu Mess. There are also varieties of non-vegetarian cuisines being served in the stall, but the chicken curry has been the most favourite for the visitors.

Pork Curry missing

The Food Mela is focused on promoting delicacies from various regions. But it is sad that the organisers have declined permission to sell the famous pork curry at the venue. People, who have been selling Kodagu food, have been selling Kadambattu (rice curry) with some other curry that has failed to attract people.

WORD OF THE DAY

Shofar

Pronunciation: shoh-fahr.

Meaning: A ram's horn blown as a wind instrument, sounded in Biblical times chiefly to communicate signals in battle and announce certain religious occasions and in modern times chiefly at synagogue services on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

Origin: First recorded use of the word is in between 1860-65. Shofar is from the Hebrew word shōphār.

THE ODD WORD

Comminatory

Threatening, punitive, or vengeful.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

One for the road

Meaning: A final drink taken just before leaving on a journey.

Origin: The suggestion that this phrase derives from the supposed practice of offering condemned felons a final drink at pubs on the way to the place of public execution in London - The Tyburn Tree, isn't supported by historical record. The phrase isn't known until the mid 20th century, long after Tyburn ceased to be a place of execution. It appears to have originated just as a colloquial reference to a departing drink in English pubs, just as 'a quick one' refers to a one taken in haste. The earliest citation I can find of 'one more for the road' is from The Times, March 1939:

"Propaganda should be employed to train and fortify public opinion in the condemnation of persons who drink before driving - above all to discourage the practice of 'one for the road'."

That piece is as reproachful as a second citation from the same year is comical. This report, of a court case in England, was reported in the Canadian newspaper The Lethbridge Herald, in December 1939:

A cultivated English voice which said, "Come on, let's have one for the road" led a Weymouth innkeeper into court. Police outside his inn heard this remark - after closing time. So Landlord Frank Roe received a summons, The landlord's father explained in court that Police had heard the English-speaking announcer of the German Zeesen radio station popularly known as "Lord Haw Haw." The summons was dismissed.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
